-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 5-14 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from another multiple dependent claim, either directly or indirectly. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Xiaolie (CN patent 2498626).

The patent to Xiaolie discloses the invention as is claimed, including a protective shielding device (fig.1) including a wiper blade apparatus. The shielding device has a visor (1), a blade (2) for wiping the visor, a motor (4) for moving the blade and an attachment means or strap (5) for mounting the device to a user.

With respect to claim 1, note that the device of Xiaolie can be used in any manner so desired to the user. It could be mounted to the face of a user or can be mounted to protective headgear, if so desired. Nothing would prevent such mounting.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Xiaolie (CN patent 2498626) in view of Russell (US patent 4,779,291)

The patent to Xiaolie discloses all of the above recited subject matter with the exception of the device including a flexible seal around the edges of the visor.

The patent to Russell discloses a protective shielding device (fig.1) to protect a user, the device including a visor (12) with attachment means or strap (32) to mount the device to a user. The device includes a flexible seal (24,26) around substantially all the edges of the visor.

It would have been obvious to one of skill in the art to provide the shielding device of Xiaolie with a seal around substantially all the edges of the visor, as clearly suggested by Russell, to prevent unwanted debris, moisture, etc from getting behind the visor during use. Use of sealing means on user mounted visors is well known.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Gary K. Graham whose telephone number is 571-272-1274. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday to Friday (6:30-4:00).
